

About Us

The community centre was built in 1995 to promote the cultural and educational development of youth including the physical education and sporting activities and to develop and promote community facilities for the area. The centre was financed by public subscription and is held in trust for the residents of its catchment area.

The centre consists of a hall which can be split in two (by a partition) and two small meeting rooms and a reception / coffee dock.

The community centre fulfils its cultural, sporting and educational development of youth role by providing space to a wide variety of organisations.
